On February 22nd the Department of Biological Engineering had their engineering week award ceremony. Where the following individuals were acknowledged for their hard work and perseverance in furthering the Biological Engineering department as a whole. Thank you!

Alan Hodges was awarded the Outstanding Master’s student researcher of the year. Congratulations!

Chad Nielson was awarded the Outstanding Graduate Teaching Assistant of the year. Congratulations!

Chase Gabbitas was awarded the Outstanding pre-professional of the year. Congratulations!

Charles Miller was awarded the Outstanding Teacher of the year. Congratulations!

Christian Morrill was awarded the Outstanding Junior of the year. Congratulations!

Darcie Christensen was awarded the Outstanding Senior of the year. Congratulations!

Dusti Gerald McEwen was awarded the Outstanding Alumnus of the year. Congratulations!
Elizabeth Vargis was awarded the Outstanding Graduate mentor of the year. Congratulations!

Emilee Madsen was awarded the Outstanding Undergraduate Researcher of the year. Congratulations!

Fuchao Xu was awarded the Outstanding Graduate Researcher of the year. Congratulations!

Jixun Zhan was awarded the Outstanding Researcher of the year. Congratulations! (*Jixun Zhan was unable to attend the ceremony)

Levi Sanchez was awarded the Distinguished Service award of the year. Congratulations!

Timothy Taylor was awarded the Outstanding Undergraduate Research Mentor Advisor of the year. Congratulations!

Yu Huang was awarded the Outstanding Undergraduate Advisor of the year. Congratulations!

For more information about the award recipients for E-Week check out our departments previous award recipients, or check out the College of Engineerings 'Engineers Week' page.